

Help Aran Find His Mom!

Aran and I got separated while I was looking for food. Please help Aran safely cross the forest. Follow the lines below to see which one will bring him to me and food to eat!

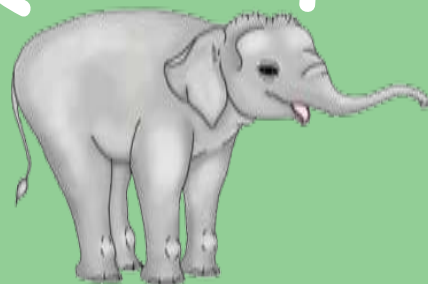

Congratulations! Aran's mother found this beautiful forest with many trees and lots to eat!

Elephants may visit villagers' crops to eat their tasty food. But, villagers may hurt elephants that steal the crops meant to feed their family. Try another path away from the village!

It looks like the trees in this forest have been cut down! There is no longer any food here. Try another path that may lead to food!

Careful, this deep hole provides water for a village, but falling into it can trap a baby elephant. Let's try a less dangerous path!

You can also collect coins with your class at school and donate the money to a group that helps elephants!

You can help elephants by doing your next homework project on elephants and sharing some of the dangers elephants face in the wild with your classmates!
