

Support for the Core Activities of Save the Elephants

Save the Elephants (STE), an elephant conservation organization based in Africa, will continue conducting conservation projects across Africa's many varied terrains, by monitoring elephant movement, poaching, and human-elephant conflict. Additionally, STE will provide education programs, an elephant news service, and work with a variety of species that share habitat with African elephants.